DEATH OF JAMES BOYD

The following report comes from Cumberland, B.C.: "James Boyd, whose mind is believed to have been temporarily unhinged, owing to grief over the loss of one son, Arthur, who was killed in a logging accident seven weeks ago, and injuries to his other son, Edward, a few weeks ago blew his brains out on Sunday afternoon, September 23rd. He resided here for thirteen years and is survived by his widow and three daughters."

There also survive two sons, William and Joseph, residing in the Cadomin district.

We understand that the James Boyd referred to above was a former resident of Blairmore, residing with his family here for a number of years on Ninth Avenue south, while he followed the occupation of blacksmith.

DEATH OF MRS. GEO. FULTON

The many friends in this district of Mr. George Fulton will regret to learn of the loss of his young wife, who passed away on Sunday morning last at Shelby, Montana.

Mrs. Fulton, formerly Miss Agnes Kerr, of Lethbridge, was a former teacher at Westminster school in that city, and was married in July of last year.

Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn her loss her father, Andrew Kerr; her brother, James Kerr, jeweler; Mrs. D. Shorthouse, a sister; all residing in Lethbridge; and a three-weeks' old baby.

The remains were laid to rest at Lethbridge on Tuesday.

FORDHAM-GINGLES

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, September 19th, when Elizabeth Gingles, 19, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Gingles, of Chinook, Alberta, became the bride of Cyril George Fordham, son of Mr. Percy Fordham, of Vegreville, Alberta. The bride entered the drawing room to the strains of the bridal march from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. James Norbury. She was attended by Mrs. Harold Wolton as matron of honor, while Mr. Harold Wolton supported the groom. The bride's gown was of pale peach georgette with insets of silver handmade lace. On her hair she wore a bandeau of orange blossoms and her flowers were sweetheart roses. The matron of honor was smartly gowned in French blue georgette, silver trimmed. Only immediate friends were present at the ceremony.

Following the ceremony the wedding supper was served, the table which was centered with the bride's cake being prettily decorated with roses. The groom's gift to the bride was a fox fur, to the matron of honor a white gold pin and to the best man engraved cuff links.

Later the bride and groom left for Banff and Lake Louise, where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride travelling in an attractive beige ensemble with matching hat. Mr. and Mrs. Fordham will make their home in Blairmore—Okotoks Review.

Mrs. Frank Wheatley, of Calgary, was a visitor with friends here on Saturday, enroute to Trail, B.C., where she will visit her son Wilfred.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR NEW LYON CREEK BRIDGE

At the regular meeting of the town council on Monday night, two tenders were received for the building of a new bridge connecting Main and Dearborn Streets over Lyon Creek; and that of E. J. Pozzi was accepted, the cost of the structure to be around $1100.

A deputation of the retail merchants association waited upon the council, asking that a by-law be introduced that would define hours in which groceries may be sold by local stores and putting a stop to the general practice of restaurants selling groceries at all hours, including Sundays. The council promised to give the matter their attention.

A deputation from the local union, accompanied by Dr. Olivier, brought to the attention of the council the necessity of caring for an aged citizen, Thomas Appleby, who was living alone and in poor health. The council agreed to find a home in which Mr. Appleby could be properly cared for and the secretary was asked to immediately get into touch with the Father Lacombe home at Midnapore and other institutions in the province, seeking accommodation.

A number of accounts were passed for payment and the minutes of previous meeting were adopted.

The application of Mr. Mar Poy for permission to operate a restaurant was accepted and permission granted.

The offer of the Macleod hospital to accept $375.00 in full settlement of the Russell account to date was approved by the council and cheque for that amount was issued. Also a cheque for $161.00 to Mr. J. E. Gillis, covering legal fees in this connection.

"CRAZY FLYER" IN SECRET MACHINE FOR BIG FLIGHT

Squadron-leader Jack Noakes, A.F.C., M.M., the man who invented "crazy flying," with demonstrations of which novel art he has thrilled spectators at flying pageants, has been selected to fly the secret Fairey-Napier monoplane which is now being assembled at Northolt. This officer, with Flying Officer Eric V. Major as assistant pilot, will attempt to establish a world's duration record for Great Britain. No date has yet been fixed for the effort.

Squadron-leader Noakes is not only one of the most skilled officers in the Royal Air Force, but he is among the oldest pilots who still fly regularly. He is at present in command of No. 22 (Bombing) Squadron, stationed at Martlesham Heath. He secured his flying "ticket" in 1915, served on the western front during the war, and afterwards for some time in Iraq. At the Hendon pageant this summer he flew the 20-ton "Inflexible," the largest monoplane in the world. Flying Officer Major is an instructor with No. 2 Flying Training School at Digby (Lines). Both officers will undergo special training for the attempt, which is being planned officially in the hope of securing more air race records for Great Britain.

It is anticipated that the Fairey-Napier monoplane, which has been secretly built and which is to be fitted with a special engine, the details of which only a few people know, will be able to stay in the air for nearly three days and nights without having to descend to refuel. During this time it would be able to travel between 6000 and 7000 miles—Sunday News, London, Eng.

Squadron-leader Noakes is a cousin of J. A. Packer and an old school fellow of Ralph Wootton, both residents of Blairmore.

Indigestion

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude help. Use what your doctor would advise. The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

CHAPTER II.—Continued.

The next day, dressed in light clothing and a pair of running shoes, Donald went around Stanley Park. Wishing to condition himself, he ran the greater part of the way.

Spring comes early in Vancouver as compared with the East. In January the buds are bursting in Stanley Park. The balmy sea air, scented with earthy odours from the deep woods, seemed to Donald to possess magic properties. The blood sang in his veins. Overhead, big white sea-gulls screamed and soared; squirrels retreated in chattering fright as he raced down the road, and over all was the sound of the booming surf. The wind ruffled past his ears, and he shouted aloud from sheer exuberance of spirits and the joy of living.

Donald covered the distance from English Bay to Granville Street at a jogging trot. The air of the gymnasium seemed close after being in the open. The big Australian fighter was in the ring with one of his sparring partners. The slap of gloves was like music to Donald's ears.

"Just in time," welcomed Andy as he led him to the dressing-room, where he quickly shifted to fighting togs and then walked over to the ring.

A crowd of boxing-fans sat by the ring-side watching the big fellow work out. Donald's entrance caused a stir. His lithe, muscular body was the attraction of all eyes.

"Op in," commanded Andy. While an attendant was putting on his gloves, Donald studied the big man he was to help train. He would weigh at least two hundred pounds. His shoulders were enormously broad and square, and the muscles of his arm stood out in knobs and bunches. His face was a pasty colour, as though his training had been done inside. His jaw was square and strong, his eyes a mild blue, and his nose looked as though it had stopped many a solid punch. "Strong but slow," Donald decided.

When Andy introduced him Hagin merely grunted. To the fighter, Donald was simply one more punching-bag.

Donald turned to Andy. "What do you want me to do?" he asked.

"Oh, knock the blighter out of the ring," rejoined Andy, with just a touch of sarcasm.

"Do you mean that?" queried Donald quickly.

Andy nodded.

Hagin came to the centre of the ring, assuming an awkward crouch, his arms wound about his face. Don-aid circled him warily. The big man feinted with his left. Donald danced within range, and the Australian let loose a terrific right swing that would have felled an ox. Donald side-stepped, jabbed his left twice to his opponent's face, and his right missed Hagin's jaw by the fraction of an inch. A surprised look came over the big man's face. A murmur of applause came from the audience.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

"Strike me pink! What a left!" and "I ejaculated Andy, Hagin scowled and tried to bring the fighting to close quarters, but was easily avoided by his lighter opponent.

Donald now took the aggressive. His left found weak spots in the big man's defence, and repeatedly he sent in stinging jabs that drove his adversary's head back with a snap. Try as he might, Hagin could not get away from that whizzing left. It was a better pill to be beaten by one's sparring partner. So far the Australia had been given a boxing lesson. He forced Donald into a corner and made for him savagely. Donald ducked under the fist-like swings, and when he left appeared to attack the latter staggered weakly to the ropes. Donald was after him like a flash. Just then he saw Andy gesticulating wildly and shaking his head. Hagin lunged forward and Donald fell into a clinch. The going rang.

"What's the trouble, Andy?" asked Donald as he reached his corner.

"Strike me lucky!" whispered Andy hoarsely. "You're phoney! He meal-kak! You're making a blinker! Look out of me 'easyweight'."

"You told me to knock him out of the ring," reminded Donald.

"Sure I did. But 'ow the 'ell did I know that you were a blinking cyclone? Strike me blind, a left 'and like that I 'aven't seen since I 'anded Young Griffo."

"What shall I do in the next round?"

"Tike a punch and go down—let your 'and—anything to get out. But for 'eaven's sake don't mess up with 'easyweight any more! If the public ever 'ears of this our big fight is all off!"

In the next round Donald dropped to the floor as they broke from a clinch in the centre of the ring. He rose to one knee, holding his hand and making a wry face.

"Too bad," sympathized Andy as he ordered him to the dressing-room.

As Donald stepped from the ring he was intercepted by a curly-haired youth whose brown eyes sparkled with enthusiasm. "By golly, I want to know you. My name's Douglas Rennie. My, but that was a wonderful fast exhibition you gave us!" he ejaculated, gazing at Donald with undisguised admiration.

Donald flushed. "I appeared fast," he explained modestly. "as I was against a very slow opponent. I know nothing of Garriau, but he won't have to be very clever to beat the Australian."

"Garriau is fast and carries a knockout in either hand."

"I'm sorry for Andy's man if that is the case, as any kind of a left will beat Hagin. Come to the dressing-room," invited Donald.

A moment later Andy entered and sank dejectedly to a locker seat.

"You look rather blue, Andy," observed Donald.

"I am. All 'ell's a poppin'," admitted Andy.

"What's wrong?"

"I've lost me 'easyweight.' It's quit."

"Why?"

"Said I framed on 'im by sending you in this afternoon. Said I 'urt 'is pride."

"Fridge!" echoed Douglas sarcastically. "You've been treating him too well. I never thought much of him as a fighter. You're too good a trainer to be wasting your time on third-raters."

"Maybe you are right," conceded Andy, "but look what a blinker 'me I'm in now! 'Ere I am in the 'ole three hundred bones for training expenses, and I've put up a forfeit with the promoters for appearance. I'll lose the 'ole lot." He threw out his arms with an air of resignation and sank back in his seat.

Little Andy presented a pitiful figure as he sat hunched in a corner—his jaunty manner gone; his blond head, usually held at a saucy angle, sunk on his chest. Gloom, deep, impenetrable gloom, enveloped this bright spirit from the Antipodes.

Donald knew now that for all Andy's munificent manner of yesterday, the three dollars to "eat on" and the sorely needed dinner he had bought, had come from a generous heart, but a depleted purse. Here was his benefactor in trouble. How could he help him? He crossed the room, sat down beside Andy, and placed his hand on the little man's arm.

"Andy, take me on. I'll fight Garriau for you."

Andy came to his feet with a jump and seized Donald by the shoulders. "If you'll do that, me lad, I'll be your pal for life. Strike me pink, did you 'ear that? I've got a real fighter at last! 'Ooray! The little fellow was in constant. "Well, clear Garriau up," he went on excitedly, "and then I'll tike you to the Stytes, and then to Australia, and..."

"Hold on," interrupted Donald laughing, "looks like you intend making a professional pug out of me. I'm doing this to help you, Andy, and I'm flushing in spite of myself. I'm broke."

Andy glanced over Donald's tall figure with a professional eye. "You 'ave a week to get fit, and 'as you 'aven't, 'ardly any weight to tike off, you should be top 'ole in that time."

"May I work out with you?" asked Douglas eagerly.

"Glad to have you," replied Donald.

A few minutes later the young man stepped to the street. Douglas seemed loth to go.

"Will you come to my home for dinner?" he invited.

Donald hesitated. It seemed ages since he had entered a private house. He glanced down at his only suit, which was rather seedy, then looked up, to find the usually roguish eyes of his companion fixed upon him seriously.

"Thanks, old man. I hope I may have the pleasure at some time, but I can't do it now."

"You said you were broke," began Douglas, hesitatingly, "can I—"

"No, no, I'll see you tomorrow," interrupted Donald, turning abruptly and walking swiftly down Granville Street.

Douglas stood watching him until he disappeared. "A mighty good sport," he said softly.

Farmers Rebel Against Soviets

Growing tension between farmers and the Soviet authorities, mainly in consequence of the requisition of grain, is reported by persons arriving in the Ukraine, South Russia. Disaffection has resulted in open insurrection. Soviet houses have been set on fire and Soviet agents roughly handled.

Good Roads Necessary

One Thing Country Cannot Afford To Do Without

The world is now moving on wheels and a province that does not provide the facilities for allowing the wheels to turn will be left far behind in the march of progress. The roads that will have to be built in Western Canada to keep these provinces anywhere in line with the states to the south will cost a great amount of money. The point is, however, that while you may afford to do without some things good roads are not one of them. The money spent on roads, if expended wisely, will earn dividends. Good roads that will permit free flow of traffic in all kinds of weather are essential to the business of the modern community as telephones, telegraphs and railways.

Rather, A Hard Job

An Irish county council were in discussion over the provision of a new bridge in place of an old one.

These extraordinary propositions were submitted at the meeting by one of the members:

(1) That the old bridge be removed and a new one built in its place.

(2) That the materials of the old one be used in the construction of the new bridge.

(3) That the old bridge be left standing until the new one is completed.

A Generous Gift

London.—An anonymous contributor, believed to be an American, has given the British treasury $15,000 in United States Steel five per cent. bonds, to help payment of interest on the British debt to the United States. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, expressed appreciation of "the spirit which inspired this gift."

"How's your wife coming along with her driving?"

"She took a turn for the worse last week."

Lake Balkal, in Siberia, is 4,500 feet deep.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No mother takes them the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you never hear of a mother's baby being ill when constipation must be relieved, or colic pains or other suffering. Never be without it. Some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children too; read the book that comes with it.

"RED ROSE TEA"

Reduced in Price

Lower Markets for good medium quality teas enable us to reduce the price of GREEN LABEL Red Rose Tea from 80c. to 75c. per lb. package, and to 38c. for the ½ lb.

The new prices will apply on stocks now on hand in the stores, as arranged with all the merchants who sell Red Rose Tea.

RED ROSE TEA is put up only in Clean, Bright Aluminum Packages. The very best container for good quality tea.

But due to an increasing demand the world over, the markets for extra fine quality teas, such as RED ROSE ORANGE PEKOE, are higher rather than lower—so we regret we cannot make any reduction in this grade at present.

Censored The Temperature

Chinese Newspapers Decreased Figures So People Would Work

The temperature was censored in Hankow recently. A hot spell caused a newspaper controversy over the heights attained by the mercury, and the charge was made that the figures were deliberately decreased.

Each day the weather apparently had been getting hotter, and each day the public scanned the temperature in the newspapers, only to find it just one or two points below 100.

A reporter was sent to investigate, and the Chinese authority informed him: "If we put the figure at more than 100 the public will think it is too hot and not work so hard."

This was only published. The next day the aggrieved authority refused to give out any figures on temperature or water marks, and for a day the public had to depend upon their home thermometers. However, an outcry in the public press forced the "censorship" to be suspended after one day.

May Be Paroled

Loeb and Leopold Eligible For Parole in Six More Years

An error in minutous under which Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., were sent to the Joliet penitentiary four years ago makes these two slayers of little Bobby Franks eligible for parole in six more years, Hinton C. Laughlin, chairman of the state board of pardons and paroles has stated.

Laughlin spoke of Loeb and Leopold as "sons of wealth, who are pampered pets in Joliet."

These men, each under life sentences for kidnapping, are building up "fine records," Laughlin said, with a view to seeking parole when, because of the error in the minutous, they become eligible within six years.

"One is private secretary to the first warden," Laughlin said, "while the other is private secretary to the Protestant chaplain. Yet Leopold is generally believed to have been the brains of the prison outbreak a few months ago which has cost so far several innocent lives and resulted in the hanging of three men."

MAP OF SOUTHERN ALBERTA

What are the lowest and highest points in the southern part of the province?

The Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, has just issued a map of the southern part of Alberta, showing elevations above sea level by means of contour lines. The map extends north from the international boundary to township 42 and covers the province from east to west. The contour lines are shown for every two hundred feet difference in elevation except for elevations over five thousand feet, where the contour interval is one thousand feet. The scale of the map is twelve and one-half miles to an inch and on this scale only the larger natural and cultural features are shown, including lakes, rivers, larger streams, notable mountain peaks, railway lines, stations, and park, forest reserve and Indian reserve boundaries.

The lowest elevation in this part of the province is at the Red Deer river, where it crosses the east boundary of the province at Empress, where the water level is slightly less than two thousand feet above sea level. The highest point is the crest of Mt. Columbia on the west boundary, which reaches 12,294 feet. There is thus a maximum difference of altitude of over 10,000 feet between the two boundaries of the province.

This map will be of interest to engineers, geologists, students of topography and physical geography, as well as to the residents generally. Copies may be obtained from the Topographical Survey for the nominal price of twenty-five cents each.

THIS DRY ISSUE

The Carlisle News, in an editorial last week, invites the respectable Al. Smith to Canada so he can personally investigate the evils of government control. We hate to take issue with the Temple City weekly, but we feel that the Democratic nominee for the presidency can refer to his bonaparte, Mayor "Jimmy" Walker, who recently fascinated the tourist trade at Banff, and who apparently returned to his native village of New York none the worse for his encounter with government control.

It is only necessary to pick up an odd copy of any New York daily to get a broad outline of actual conditions in Dry America. If prohibition had been a success at any time of its existence, we would be quite ready to ally ourselves with The Carlisle News and cry "Down With Al," but so long as Helen Morgan and Texas Guinan continue to draw the early morning crowds on dear old Broadway, we remain sceptical concerning the arid atmosphere. — Drumheller Mail.

HOW TO ESCAPE

A desperate young man, whose name we must withhold, writes to us: "I am engaged. The girl has changed her mind. So have I. But if I admit I want to quit, she will hold me to it. I let her think I am still crazy about her, she will not throw me down for fear of ruining my life. What shall I do?"

This is easy. Insist on the word "ohay" in the marriage service. Clap your hands over your ears when she sings. Eat onions. Eat with your knife. Refuse to walk down Victoria Street with her. Snuffle and lose your handkerchief and snuffle. Buy the cheapest of everything for her. Get your driver's license cancelled for two years. Go bankrupt.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Cowan is visiting in Calgary at present.

Mrs. Sandeman has returned from Calgary with her infant son.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Murphy were visitors to Macleod on Wednesday.

Miss Kathleen Porter is working in the local branch of the Royal Bank as junior clerk.

Mrs. M. A. Murphy gave a children's party on Saturday afternoon in honor of her daughter Edith's tenth birthday, when she was the recipient of many dainty gifts. The children made merry with games, songs and dancing. Prizes were offered for several contests, the winners being: Bessie Cooper, Verdon Leigh, Barbara Bundy, Ketha Tustian and Sylvia Murphy. The table was decorated with bouquets of asters, where fifteen covers were laid the youngsters doing ample justice to satisfy their healthy appetites. The young guests were: Edith Murphy, Bessie Cooper, Freda White, Ketha

Tustian, Metta Swart, Yvonne Lapointe, Barbara Bundy, Clara Bundy, Marion Morrison, Josephine Porter, Lillian Porter, Florence Potapoff, Sylvia Murphy and Muriel Marlow.

Lumber companies report the greatest volume of business in Alberta since the boom year of 1912. One hundred million feet of lumber is being cut in Alberta this year but the bulk of the supplies come from British Columbia mills.

A press report from Telfordville states that the farmers are well pleased with the allocation of stations on the twenty mile extension to the Hoadley subdivision of the Canadian Pacific Railway. A large number of settlers are going into the territory which will be served by this extension and the old timers in the district are now clearing and breaking as much land as possible.

Kyohko Kato, who represents a Tokio concern, and who has just concluded a business mission to Canada, stated that he had bought 8,000,000 bushels of wheat in Canada, or about half of Japan's total importations. He explained that Japan got more of its rice than Canadian wheat cost in their market, hence, the present purchase. He said, too, that Japanese were eating more wheat foods and adapting themselves to the stronger diet.

"The Maritime Provinces in particular, and Canada in general, need more commercial advertising," was the opinion expressed by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, Prime Minister of New Brunswick, when interviewed on arrival on board the "Express of Scotland" after a month's visit to Europe. British settlers in the Maritimes have been quite satisfactory as regards type and quality, he said, and he hoped that we will be able to obtain a great many more spread over a period of years.

Part of a litter of eight red foxes, which, together with the vixen, were captured in the Arcola district recently, have been brought to Moose Jaw by Mr. W. White, who has established a fox farm east of this city. It is many years since red fox have lived as large in their natural state in the southern part of this province, where these were captured. Mr. White intends to start raising patch foxes, a cross between red and silver or black fox, as a commercial enterprise.

Transportation of small but valuable packages by air from Canadian Pacific liners at Rimouski to Montreal and Toronto, thereby saving about 24 hours in time is becoming increasingly popular. After Montreal, Toronto, London and Chatham, Quebec had its turn with a parcel of Irish linens going to a department store there and the shipment being welcomed by Mayor Robson and other prominent citizens of the town. These parcels are handled by the Canadian Pacific Express Company.

A tablet in memory of men of the Seventh Royal Fusiliers who served with the Quebec garrison during the siege of 1775-76 by the Americans under Montgomery and Arnold, was unveiled on Dominion Day on the Wall of the Chateau Frontenac by His Excellency, the Governor-General. Present at the ceremony were officers of the Fusiliers from England and a detachment from the Canadian Fusiliers of London, Ontario, who are affiliated with the English corps. The Chateau Frontenac occupies the site of the old Chateau St. Louis which was the military headquarters during the siege.

Inspection of the "Duchess of Bedford," new 20,000-ton Canadian Pacific liner, which recently made her maiden trip to Montreal, at once disclosed the extreme suitability of these "Duchess" ships for tropical travel. Ventilated under the hull, the Louvre system of individually controlled outlets, cool air is forced under gentle pressure to every part of the vessel. Broad sun-decks and an open-air swimming pool add to the luxurious appearance of the ship and it has now been decided that the "Duchess of Atholl" shall be used on the South America-South Africa cruise, next year.

AT THE SAME MONEY

PEOPLE used to think of all eights as costing more money. But the price of these new Marmon Eights is identical with many of the popular sixes. And here's what a Marmon Straight-Eight will do—features which are not matched by any six:

Smoothness—Steadier pull, such as only a multiple cylinder motor can develop.

Acceleration—Much quicker, especially at low speeds in high gear—hence, far easier handling in traffic. (This is due to greater "torque" of eight cylinders.)

Hill Climbing—Keeps right on going in high gear where you ordinarily have to shift (due to the greater turning effort of the two extra cylinders.)

Dependability—Explosions in cylinders

Brewing is an Important Industry in Alberta

Few citizens give thought to what the Brewing Industry means to Alberta as an industry, yet it is an important factor in the industrial life of the Province

It is not necessary to emphasize the millions of dollars invested in the industry. The point that should not be lost sight of is that there are hundreds of men steadily employed throughout the year in the brewing, storing and transporting of the products of the five great breweries of Alberta.

There is no industry in Alberta that spends more of its total income right in the Province than does the Brewing Industry.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

(By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee Oklahoma)

That failure to advertise kills many a profitable business.

That advertising is essential to business success.

That to "ask 'em to buy" makes selling easier.

That progressive dealers don't waste time trying to sell undervalued, unasked for merchandise.

That the busiest, most helpful thing in any business is advertising.

That a live business concern can't afford to mark time.

That the only business that can afford to mark time is dead.

That the ones who get the business are the ones who go after it in a vigorous way.

That a going business should be a growing business.

That business men today are building their business on a basis of truthful advertising.

Modern business men know that persistent advertising makes new customers and keeps old ones satisfied.

STAVELY SKATING RINK

Work has started on the new Stavely skating rink. The cost will be approximately $2,000. The structure, overall, will be 191 feet by 93 feet with an ice surface of 170 feet by 75 feet and the seating capacity will be able to take care of 2000 people. There will also be two fine dressing rooms in the building and instead of the roof being rounded it will be gabled and shingled.

A new agreement between the town and the Elks' lodge was found necessary, because the Utilities Commission cut the term for repayment of the $5000 debentures down to ten years. This made the annual payments too heavy for the lodge to feel safe in undertaking. The lodge accordingly made another offer to the town to rent the rink when completed at an annual rental of $400, and in addition would pay fire insurance premium on the building and a further sum of one per cent per annum on the total cost of the completed building. This last sum to be placed in a separate trust account by the town to provide for depreciation and repairs. All of these payments are to be continued by the lodge to the town annually and until the said debentures with interest was all repaid. The town council accepted the offer of the lodge, and will issue debentures. —Nanton News.

"Cause daddy says that's where his business is gone to!"

THE PASS FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(The Blaimore Enterprise, 1913) August 3.—The plant of the Blaimore Brewing & Malting Company will be set in operation in the course of a few days. The monthly payroll will be over $1000. The building and machinery has cost in the neighborhood of $50,000, and is owned mainly by local parties.

At a special meeting of the town council on Tuesday night, By-Law No. 16 was finally passed, empowering the council to raise the sum of $15,000 for the purpose of extending the waterworks system. The secretary-treasurer was instructed to advise Mutz and Scott that the town, in lieu of their signing the waterworks easement, was in a position to tap the main where it crosses their land and supply them with water at the same rate as applies to residents of the Town of Blaimore.

August 15.—At Monday night's meeting of the town council, Capt. W. A. Beebe asked for a rate for water to run an independent dynamo at the opera house for the generation of electricity. Councillor McLeod objected, because such permit would work somewhat of a hardship upon the Rocky Mountains Cement Company, who had contracted to supply the town with all electric current necessary. ### OUR HEROES

Here's a hand to the boy who has courage

To do what he knows to be right; When he falls in the way of temptation

He has a hard battle to fight. Who strives against self and his comrades,

Will find a most powerful foe: All honor to him if he conquers, A cheer for the boy who says "No!"

There's many a battle fought daily The world knows nothing about; There's many a brave little soldier Whose strength puts a legion to rout.

And he who fights sin single-handed Is more of a hero, I say, Than he who leads soldiers to battle, And conquers by arms in the fray.

Be steadfast, my boy, when you're tempted,

To do what you know to be right; Stand firm by the colors of manhood, And you will overcome in the fight. "The right," be your battle-cry ever In waging the warfare of life; And God, Who knows who are the heroes,

Will give you the strength for the strife.

"Murphy," yelled the sergeant, when he discovered him lying breathless on the ground, "you dismounted!"

"OI did that!" answered Murphy promptly.

"Did you have orders?"

"OI did that!"

"From headquarters?"

"No, sor; from hindquarters!"

CHAPTER I.—Continued

Gillie rose with an embarrassed air. "Here I am talkin' 'bout you and I travellin' together, I guess you're one of them tourist fellows, and I don't suppose you want to go along with a rough-neck like me!"

Donald liked this big, bluff Westerner, with his honest face and simple manner. He reached in his pocket and took out the money the sheriff had given him.

"You see that? Well, before this money is gone I'll have to find a job. And it's borrowed money, too."

Gillie studied him carefully. "Well, you got your goat in a way, but there is one thing I do know, and that is that you ain't no slicker. I'm 'bout twice your age, and I know a good deal more about life than you. I'll meet you tomorrow mornin' at the station. I'm goin' to start callin' you Donald right now. And what's more, Jack Gillie is your friend from now until hell freezes over. Good-night, Donald."

CHAPTER II.

Two days later Donald and the Westerner boarded a C.P.R. train in Montreal for the West. They were no longer comfortably seated in their section of a tourist sleeper than they began rushing westward through the winter evening.

The days that followed were full of interest to Donald. The train roared west, running on time like a clock. They tore through towns and farming settlements and plunged into forests and hills in the northern part of Ontario. The hills dwindled when they reached Manitoba, and in Alberta Donald felt as if he were sailing over a vast sea of land.

"Well, see them old 'Rocky Mountain' pretty soon," said Gillie happily. "You'll like 'em, B.C. Donald. And after you bin there awhile all hell won't pry you loose. I know, 'cause I broke away from her twice, but I always drift back. I ain't got the education to tell you the good feelin' I have when I'm comin' back to her. When I see them big mountains loomin' up I feel sort of scrumptious inside, like I wanted to smile at everybody, and I have a hard time to keep from lettin' out a yell."

"Your power of expression needs no apology," laughed Donald. "Forgot to tell you that I ain't goin' right through to the Coast. The Company I work for has a mill at Revelstoke that needs fixin'. The job'll probably last 'till spring. You better stay off with me, 'cause you'll find wicket. "By, do you know where I can find an 'easy-weight' that can box a bit?" he said to the agent.

"How about those two I sent you yesterday, Andy?"

The one addressed as Andy made a gesture of disgust. "Those two bighters were as 'easy as cows. They didn't know their right 'and from their left. I don't want any 'human punchin' bags. I want a man that 'as a little speed. Blime me, if I was in Australia I could get a 'arf a dozen in 'arf a minute."

"I'm your man," said Donald stepping forward.

The small man turned. The keen eyes under the bushy, light-colored eyebrows studied Donald carefully. "Can you box?"

"I can."

"Good! Come with me."

Donald followed the sturdy little Australian. For a few blocks they walked in silence.

"Ad your dinner?" queried the Australian.

"No."

"We'll 'ave a bite in 'ere."

They turned into "Old Joe's" restaurant.

"Sounds good to me," observed Donald with a pleased smile.

"Been missin' a few meals, 'ave you? Order what you want," said the Australian, as they sat down to a table.

"I'll warn you that I'm hungry," cautioned Donald.

"Op to it, my lad; about all we get in this blinkin' world is what we eat. What's your name?"

"Donald McLean."

"Mine's Andy Pettrary."

Then Andy delivered himself of the following information: "I'm the manager of Bill Hagen, the Australian 'easyweight. We are to fight Sluggo Garriue, the Canadian champion, in about two weeks. The Sluggo is big, about as 'e is an 'easy 'titer and it takes a good boxer to beat 'im. I want an 'easy man that can speed his lip a bit, and I've 'tinted this town over, but I can't find one. Now, if you can deliver the goods, you will be worth three dollars a day and your eats. What do you say?"

"I say 'yes," was the decided answer.

Andy dug into his pocket. "Here's three dollars to bind the bargain."

"Better wait until I earn it," suggested Donald.

"That's all right, me lad; you'll be needin' it to eat on. I ain't worryin'."

"Come to the gymnasium at the corner of Robson and Granville at two o'clock tomorrow," advised Andy as they stepped outside.

"I'll be there, and I want to thank you for your kindness."

"Forget it," smiled Andy. "I've been flat many a time myself."

"Half an hour ago I was broke and hungry," mused Donald, "and now I feel well and have three dollars in my pocket. Great old world this!"

He chuckled happily as he swung down, unspashed Cordova Street with a buoyant stride.

To Be Continued.

What Will you do

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that has not heard of Castoria. As most five million houses are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need for it. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops and the colic or constipation is relieved, or diarrhoea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that baby becomes fretful, or restless. Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every drugist has it.

A diminutive man with blond hair, bright blue eyes under shaggy brows, and his head set at a cocky angle entered briskly and approached the

A Double Escape

DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER'S STORY

Another Toronto home provides evidence of how a simple cut, scratch or bruise may pave the way to deadly disease, and how it is the need for keeping Zam-Buk always handy?

When called upon at 4, Buhness Avenue, Mrs. J. E. Zeilly, daughter of the late Dr. Hevan, of St. David's, S. Wales, said: "My boy Alfred scratched his leg with the brass leg of a shoe lace. A nasty poisonous sore developed and it defied all the usual treatments. Hearing splendid reports about Zam-Buk I decided to give it a trial. To my great relief, the pain soon caused healing to set in. All inflammation and poisonous matter was quickly removed by Zam-Buk, and it healed the sore without leaving a scar."

"Again when I fell over a steel fence and injured my knee badly, Zam-Buk alone saved me. My daughter, a nurse, was of the opinion that any operation could remove the mass of inflammation and pus. But I again pinned my faith to Zam-Buk, and it cleaned and healed the wound. All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at fifty cents per box. It is really valuable for eczema, pimples, cuts, burns, etc."

Autos Derail Many Trains

What Happens To Car and Passengers Not Hard To Guess

An automobile weighs a ton or two, while a railroad train may weigh thousands tons, yet in one year automobiles caused twenty-seven derailments. Probably the whole train was never derailed, but it is surprising that even part of it was forced from the tracks. What happened, to the passengers of the charging automobiles is easy to reason out.

In the same period over ten thousand railway crossing gates were smashed, while many automobiles were wrecked on the tracks, and others were demolished by flying trains which were not derailed.

Each year thousands of persons are killed and injured at railroad crossings, and practically every death could well be charged to the fact that we recklessly persist in taking the American's gambling chance.

The only ways in which one may commit suicide at a crossing are by trying to beat the train, or paying no heed to what is coming along the track.

The driver who obeys bells, warning lights and whistles, and approaches a crossing with both eyes and ears at attention, is the driver who always has to notify the hospital of what happened to the other fellow. Even this is a mean job, but not half so tantalizing as being bumped by a one-thousand-ton moving train on its own tracks.

Teeth and Health

Prepared by The Canadian Dental Hygienist. As Recommended by The Saskatchewan Dental Society.

TOOTH STRUCTURE

You examine the highly polished crown of the tooth, and you conclude, rightly and so, that the enamel does not persist all the way through. As the back is to the front, so the enamel is to the tooth, a protective covering, but serving as well, the purpose of ornamentation of the tooth body.

In the tooth, this body which constitutes the main bulk of the tooth, is known as the dentine.

There is this all right, for as in the teeth we have a pulp or core, so in the tooth we have a central chamber known in the crown of the tooth, as the pulp chamber, and in the root, as the root canal.

But you have observed, too, that the enamel covers only the exposed portion of the tooth, or crown. The root is protected by a covering known as cementum, which attaches the myriads of fibres or "threads," that hold the tooth firmly in place in its socket.

Nature, ever wise, has constituted the enamel the hardest substance in the human body, to better withstand the stress to which it is subjected. Also, enamel does not undergo the physiologic changes of dissolution and repair to the extent of any other body tissues, hence the need of hardness as an effective barrier to injury and decay.

In the dentine are minute tubules, or canals, containing soft tissue filaments through which communication is established from the outside of the tooth to the nerve tissue of the pulp; and because of this honeycombed structure and, too, owing to dentine being softer than enamel, it is less resistant to disease than is the latter.

So you can see how important it is to keep intact the enamel which constitutes the outer defences of the tooth since disease processes, once penetrating the enamel barrier, can quickly gain access to the more vital tissues within and there proceed apace to work disaster.

Strong For Trade Mark

According to Premier Ferguson of Ontario, Canadian trade is losing its chance on the British market, because it is not specially stamped with the name of the manufacturer, and they go where trade-marks lead them.

When, in 1918, the Jewess Roas Kaplan attempted Lenin's life, 800 young Russian officers were executed in Moscow.

What Happens In Half Second

Speeding Car Travels Ten Feet In That Time

The fastest thing that any man can do is to wink his eye. The instinctive reaction of winking when a cipher blows into the eye is about one-tenth of a second for most people. In that flash of time, an automobile speeding fifty miles-an-hour will move nearly ten feet. A fast airplane will move more than twenty-five feet. Thus, the pilot can run into a small bird after he has dined on it before he can wink his eye against the expected shock, writes E. E. Free in Popular Science Monthly.

Some months ago, a workman fell out of the fifteenth floor of a building in course of construction in New York City. On the thirteenth floor he grabbed a rope hanging from a scaffold and swung himself in. He afterwards confessed that he was as much astonished by his act as anyone who saw him.

The explanation is that the fall of twenty or twenty-five feet before he grabbed the rope occupied about one second and a quarter, which was time enough for his thinking machinery to issue the orders which made his muscles take hold of the rope below at the proper instant. Had he been placed in equal danger while driving an automobile at sixty miles an hour he would have been killed.

Tests with a group of typical automobile drivers have shown that the average time needed to see a danger signal, realize its meaning and begin to press the brake lever is a little more than half a second. In that time a car travelling forty miles an hour would move thirty feet. That distance represents the minimum margin of safety the driver must maintain to avoid accident.

As speeds increase, no remedy for the advancing number of accidents will be found in stricter driving tests or improved warning signals. Devices will have to be found speedier than the human nervous system.

NO MEDICINE LIKE BABY'S OWN TABLETS

For Either the Newborn Babe or the Growing Child

There is no other medicine so equal to Baby's Own Tablets for little ones, whether it be for the newborn babe or the growing child. The Tablets are absolutely free from opiates or other harmful drugs and the mother can always feel safe in using them.

Little Helps For This Week

"And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men."

If any little word of mine
May make a life the brighter,
If any little song of mine
May make a heart the lighter,
God help me speak the little word,
And take my bit of singing,
And drop it in some lonely vale
To set the echoes ringing.

If any little love of mine
May make a life the sweeter,
If any little care of mine
May make a friend's the fleetier,
If any little love may ease
The burden of another,
God give me love and care and strength
To help my fellow brother.

To help my fellow brother,
God dividing man into men that they might help each other.—Seneca.

Bears Well Behaved

Have Better Manners Than Any Other Wild Animal

The epicurean bears have the best table manners of any wild animal, in the opinion of Scoreum Alard, who presides at the nightly feasts served to brutes in the park at Yosemite, Cal.

Scraps of food gathered from eating houses of the region are brought to a regular place, where bears are always waiting to be fed.

"Each evening the hungry brutes patiently wait until I have backed my truck containing their food to the platform and have set their table," Alard said.

"When I empty the scraps on the platform they take their places. They do not guzzle their food and are not in the least disturbed by the thousands of tourists who watch them," he added.

Varicose Veins Reduced or Money Back

Simple Home Treatment That is Giving Amazing Results
If you have varicose veins or bunches you can start today to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.
Just get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist's and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating. After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.
People who want to reduce varicose veins, or get rid of eczema, ulcers or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is such a powerful, penetrating antiseptic oil that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you and sell lots of it.

Composing Room Divulges Secrets

The cut above was reproduced from a collection of photographs plus a little art work, and it came about this way. There was a need for an illustration to brighten and balance the page. So we looked through the files. The photograph of the new Canadian Pacific engine came to light first, but, while it illustrates the largest passenger engine in the British Empire, our readers already knew all about it. Put it on one side! Then we saw the picture of the ox which was engaged in shunting freight cars at Trieste. This we thought we could tie up to the engine in some way, but when we saw the photograph of the elephant at Kandy, we thought that it would be much better and easier to write a feature on, say, "power" or "World transport!" The African Zulu with the Ricksha would have helped a story of this nature, but when we saw the beautiful curves of the Lughwa Pagoda and the graceful lines of the Moon Arch in the garden of the Jade Tree Studio at Shanghai we thought that perhaps we could make an appeal of sorts to the cultural side of our readers. But the office boy was very keen on the locomotives, the make-up man thought he could design a better lay-out with just the animals, and our fair-haired stenographer considered the architecture more artistic.

We compromised by deciding to make a three-column instead of a two-column lay-out and using them all. What then remained was to tie them up in some way, so we got out our best-looking photograph of the "Empress of France" and—there you have a complete short story. One gets aboard a Canadian Pacific train first and at New York boards a Canadian Pacific steamship for the ports and sights of the world. The "Empress of France" doesn't really belong to the set, because this year she will not make a cruise, but here she is last year at Rio de Janeiro. The "Empress" is replaced in cruise service by a "Duchess". Not that this makes a great deal of difference to your editor, but there are many readers of this page too, who will spend Christmas in the Holy Land, and cherry-blossom time in Japan. They will tour the West Indies in comfort in January or February. They will spend the winter in luxury travelling round South America and South Africa, round the world or round the Mediterranean. They have shown us their booklets, and before Spring is here again they will be showing us their tan and their souvenirs.

Real Foundation of Modern Business

The so-called practical man of business, the financier, the farmer, during the many decades of the past has been inclined to regard the scientist as hopelessly impracticable, a dreamer, a faddist. Within more recent years marked change in this respect has taken place, and today the scientist, the chemist, the laboratory research worker, is recognized as among the most practical and essential of the world's workers.

To the great universities of the world, and to Governments must be credited in large degree the recognition now accorded to the scientist, while many of the world's foremost industrial concerns now regard their research departments as being among the most profitable departments of their great enterprises.

A recent article by Dr. E. E. Free in "Chemical Markets," New York, declares that science earns for the United States more than thirty billion dollars a year, or nearly half of the national income. It has, he says, doubled the productivity of agriculture and more than quadrupled that of mining. Continuing, Dr. Free wrote: "Surely the business men of America ought to be convinced by now that it is worth while to exhaust every one of science's industrial resources; yet the surprising fact is not only that these resources are unexploited, but that only a small fraction of them have been put to work. Not a tenth of the facts that scientists know are being used. The rest of them lie idle in the heads of professors or in the unread pages of scientific books."

Som years ago a gentleman named Dudley became a chief chemist of one of the large American railways. He devised methods of testing coal and coke and lubricating oils, and saved millions of dollars for his road. He helped the steel people find out how to make more lasting rails. He invented cheaper and better paints. He suited the available water supplies to the engines, and saved millions of boiler tubes from being burnt out or corroded. It is estimated that the scientific improvements devised by Dr. Dudley and his successors on other railways have saved more money than all the railroad yaggers ever paid in the United States.

Sometimes a scientific problem solves itself as if by magic. The origin of the potato industry is an example. The salt miners of Germany a generation ago were bothered greatly by some bitter, evil-tasting stuff mixed with the salt they were trying to mine. This bitter stuff had to be taken out, but if they piled it up anywhere the rain always washed some of it down into the rivers where it spoiled the water and poisoned the fish. Then a great chemist, Dr. Justus von Liebig, happened to hear about this worthless stuff. He found out there was potash in it. He knew that crop plants need potash—that it could be used as a fertilizer. He suggested this to the farmers of Germany. Now the potato industry is one of the greatest in the world. The useless, bitter stuff became the chief assets of the mines.

Tons of sulphuric acid and arsenic used to be blown out of the smoke stacks of copper smelters, sometimes killing animals and crops on neighboring farms. A scientist built an electric apparatus which collects these poisonous particles out of the smelter smoke. The apparatus is now in use all over the world, and the sulphuric acid, instead of floating out to damage the farms, is used in chemical industry, while the arsenic has become the chief reliance of the scientists who are fighting the boll-weevil, which threatens the destruction of the cotton plantations of the southern states.

In like manner we have the story of the botany professor who cleared the western United States irrigation ditches of a weed that was choking them and compelling the farmers to employ a man night and day to clear the tangle of the pipe line. "Suspend a few crystals of copper sulphate in the ditches, in little canvas bags," he advised. The weeds died and disappeared in a week. This scientist knew that copper was especially poisonous to that kind of weed. His practical knowledge increased the wealth of the whole irrigated region.

In Saskatchewan, a clay-working industry was having trouble with its raw products. One of the professors of the University of Saskatchewan was called in, and as a result of his knowledge, investigations and tests, he found that the correct mixture of clays was not being made. He found a remedy, and the industry is now on a paying basis and expanding its operations.

The battle against rust in wheat and other parasites, the removal of moisture from wheat without impairing its milling and baking qualities—these and other important subjects are receiving the attention of the scientists of Canada, and their solution will mean hundreds of millions of dollars to the farmers of the Dominion.

All of which only goes to demonstrate that every industrial interest in Canada, whether it be in the manufacturing class or in the work of production from the farm, the mine, the forest or the fisheries, should strongly support the present move for larger and more extensive research work in this Dominion. And of all classes, the farmer will probably prove to be the greatest gainer.

Alberta Crop Yield

It is estimated that the crop yield for the southern portion of Alberta will amount to 40,000,000 bushels. It has been estimated that the total yield for Alberta will be in the neighborhood of 500,000,000 bushels, but some officials say that 150,000,000 bushels will be the extent of the yield.

Honor For Lost Fliers

Monument On French Coast Dedicated To Memory of Nungesser and Coll

A monument honoring the memory of Captain Charles Nungesser and Captain Francois Coll has been dedicated at Etretat, where the French aviators left the coast of France on their ill-fated attempt to fly to New York more than sixteen months ago. It bears the inscription:

"To the First Who Dared."
At the base of the column, which resembles an obelisk, are marble figures, three times life size, representing the two flyers. The monument has been erected on the cliffs at Etretat at the point over which Nungesser and Coll in their "White Bird" passed on May 8, 1927, before they disappeared in the west. On the front are engraved the words: "Nungesser and Coll, May, 1927." The inscription on the reverse side recalls their attempt.

WEAK AND NERVOUS

A Condition Always Due To Thin, Watery Blood

Thin blood and weak nerves generally are found together. Red blooded people seldom complain of nervousness. The reason is that the blood feeds the nerves and keeps them toned up to do the work nature intended. When the blood is thin and weak it fails in this important function and nervous troubles ensue. The following case will interest those who need a tonic for the blood and nerves. Mrs. D. W. Union Square, N.Y., writes:—"With a feeling of gratitude I write to tell you that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me. I have been badly run down, and reached the stage when I could not do my household work. I was not only weak, but my nerves seemed completely shattered. The least noise would startle me and I was subject to nervous headaches. Worse still, I could not sleep at night. Perhaps I would get an hour or two sleep, and then lie awake for the rest of the night. I had reached a stage when I actually feared I would lose my mind. Up to the time I decided to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, nothing I had taken seemed to do me any good. I got a few boxes of these pills, and there was no doubt they were the medicine to help me. As I continued the use of the pills I gradually grew stronger, ate better and could sleep at night, and now I am as well and strong as a woman could wish to be. I hope some other weak, nervous person will be benefited by my experience." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To Serve One Customer

Paris Store Opened For Sultan Of Morocco To Shop

One of the world's largest department stores ran full blast for just one customer recently.

Si Moulay Hemsada, Sultan of Morocco, wanted to buy a ring or two and he installed on doing his own shopping. His wish was a command to the Printemps store in Paris and for an hour, in the early evening, during the Sultan's recent incognito visit to France, everyone of the hundreds of clerks stood behind counters, scores of floorwalkers were at attention, and managers and French secret service men peered from behind piles of goods, while the young ruler, with his Grand Vizier, wandered about, buying everything that pleased his eye, leaving it for the Grand Vizier to foot the bill.

Do not allow worms to sap the vitality of your children. If not attended to, worms may work irreparable harm to the constitution of the infant. The little sufferers cannot voice their ailment, but there are many signs by which mothers are made aware that a dose of Miller's Worm Powders is necessary. These powders act quickly and will expel worms from the system without any inconvenience to the child.

"I wonder if that old fat girl is trying to flirt with me?"
"I don't know, but I can easily find out by asking her—she's my wife."

He sees ahead only years of endless torment with intervals of rest which are themselves fraught with never ceasing fear of renewed attacks. Let him turn to Dr. J. D. #### Transform Cadillac

For Railway Service

Canadian Pacific Uses High Power Sedan For Inspection Work

A high power Cadillac sedan specially equipped with hinged steel wheels has just been leased from the Angus shops of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal for the use of the Engineering Department of the company. Capable of travelling on the rails at as great a speed as upon the road, the machine will be used for inspection trips on C.P.R. lines throughout the country. Service conditions are harder on the trucks for braking, and there are three systems on the car; the ordinary foot brake operating on the rear wheels, the conventional emergency brake, and a special supplementary brake applied by turning the steering wheel, acting through brake shoes on the front wheels. The axles have been changed, the front axle being rigid and more rugged, and the rear axle, instead of being mounted in conjunction with the differential, has had the differential removed and replaced by a one-piece alloy steel axle. This is driven by a single gear with a ratio of 4 to 1, in place of the ordinary differential ratio of 4 and ten eighths to 1.

The wheels themselves are of special design and are equipped with rubber insulation between the steel tyre and the wheel centre in order to deaden shock at rail joints, switch points, drawbars and crossings. The lighting system, moreover, has been supplemented to comply with railroad regulations.

The car is a comfortable sedan model and will enable officials of the Canadian Pacific Engineering Department to cover great distances in a short time on their inspection trips under any weather conditions. It is the only machine of the kind at this time officially in the company's service, although other motor cars are on rails have been improved in other parts of Canada.

Drawback To Ocean Service

Airplanes Forced To Take Fuel For Entire Trip

Sir Eric Geddes, chairman of Imperial Airways, Ltd., states a scheme to establish an air service between England and India is now being gauged, and it is hoped that within 15 months machines will be taking passengers from England to Karachi in five or six days.

On the subject of trans-Atlantic flight Sir Eric stated that ocean service was not now commercially possible, for whereas on the projected Empire service the machines could be refueled at intervals, the trans-Atlantic flyer had to take all the necessary fuel with him.

It is truly a household medicine as it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints it is an inextinguishable medicine. So keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

Entertained War Veterans

Belgium Honors Badly Wounded British Soldiers

Forty disabled British ex-soldiers were recently the guests of the British Disabled Soldiers' Association, Antwerp, who asked the British Legion to select a party of the most badly wounded men in Britain for a ten days' tour in Belgium as an indication of Belgium's admiration for, and gratitude to, the British Army.

The whole of Belgium's official life was represented in this telling of British heroes, who were selected by the Legion, irrespective of social standing or rank. Some were so badly disabled that the War Office had sent with the party a detachment of the R.A.M.C. to attend to them on the journey. Practically all the men had lost limbs.

PROVINCES WILL CLAIM RIGHTS TO WATER POWER

Ottawa.—Dominion and provincial rights to water powers will be argued in the supreme court of Canada next week. Recognized as one of the most important questions with far-reaching ramifications which has come before the courts in years, the matter undoubtedly will be carried to the Privy Council in England for final adjudication.

Development of the potential water powers of the St. Lawrence, International and interprovincial in character, development of water power on the Ottawa river and a number of other power projects, all these are vitally concerned in the points to be decided respecting Federal and provincial jurisdiction. The case probably will extend over two weeks.

The Dominion government and at least five of the provinces, Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, will be represented.

Ontario and Quebec, through counsel, will take the leading part in opposition and will be supported by British Columbia, Manitoba and Saskatchewan probably also will be heard in argument in answer to the claim of the Dominion.

These provinces, broadly speaking, will take the position that the water powers were vested in the provinces before confederation and were not transferred to Dominion Domain by virtue of the British North America Act. A further argument would put forward on behalf of the provinces that the Dominion has no right to these water powers and that any treaty respecting an international waterway must subordinate to the British North America Act.

Saskatchewan at its own legal representative at Ottawa has already received instructions to appear at the Supreme Court hearing and watch Saskatchewan's interests.

Withdrawing From League Of Nations

Geneva.—Argentina intends to withdraw from the League of Nations, it was indicated by advice from Buenos Aires stating that the Argentine parliament had decided to discontinue appropriations to meet league dues.

The news caused surprise and consternation in league circles. Under the rules of the league any member nation that contemplates withdrawal must pay dues for two years after notification of withdrawal is given.

Does Not Need Warships

South Africa Protected By British Fleet, Says General Smuts

Capetown, South Africa.—Speaking to an audience which was predominantly of Dutch origin, General Jan Christian Smuts, leader of the opposition in the assembly, was vigorously applauded in a memorable speech on the secession question.

General Smuts at one point declared: "If we were not within the empire we would have to go to America or France, or some other big country to protect us because we are not safe. One warship could bring us to our knees. But today we are not considered in a kral. We are in a friendly circle with a powerful British fleet to help us if any injustice is planned toward us."

"We need not spend millions on a fleet," General Smuts continued, "but can concentrate on projects of development to necessary to a young country. The British Empire is not a bond tying us, but she is a helping hand."

Cement Firms Protest

Producers Will Contest Move For Removal Of Duty

Ottawa.—Contesting the application of the Canadian Council of Agriculture for removal of the import duty on cement, representatives of the cement producers in Canada continued the survey of facts relating to the industry before the tariff advisory board.

To the leaders of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, which was filed recently, it was claimed that the prosperous condition of the industry did not justify continuance of the existing import duties. In opening the case for producers generally, Professor J. Jackson, Toronto, categorically denied the claims of the applicants. He sought to prove that the cost of production did not leave 57.5 per cent. of the sales to provide overhead and profit, as maintained in the brief of the council of agriculture.

Will Analyze Frosted Wheat

Scientists At University of Saskatchewan Have Started Work

Saskatoon, Sask.—Now that four Canadian scientific laboratories, including that of the University of Saskatchewan, have determined that milling and baking qualities are not lessened by toughening or dampening of grain, scientists here, in collaboration with the investigations carried on elsewhere in Canada, are turning their attention chiefly to frosted wheat.

With painstaking effort as to detail, the Saskatchewan University laboratory, under general supervision of Dr. T. Thorvaldsen, professor of chemistry, and direct supervision of Dr. R. K. Larimer, has begun work with the object of determining the actual damage done by frost to the milling and baking quality of wheat.

FEDERAL AID FOR HIGHWAYS SHOULD CONTINUE

Regina.—That federal aid for highways should be continued with additional aid to the various provinces was the view of the delegates attending the 15th annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association who dealt with many other matters of interest during the sessions here. Elimination of level crossings, building cement bridges and roads, the financial responsibility of urban municipalities in road development, gasoline taxes and winter roads all had their place on the agenda.

O. L. McPherson, minister of public works for Alberta, was unanimously chosen president of the association and other officers were elected. Seven invitations were presented for next year's meeting place and, while, no decision was arrived at, Prince Edward Island would seem to be in favor with the delegates.

When the subject of Federal aid for highways was under review the discussions arising from this topic were crystallized in the following resolution:

"Resolved, that in view of the very marked and acknowledged benefit which comes to Canada as a whole because of the large investments being made in the highway construction and maintenance by various municipal and provincial bodies, such benefit being of a far reaching nature and affecting many branches of Dominion government service; and whereas the Federal government has collected in excess of $200,000,000 during the past 10 years which can be directly or indirectly traced to highways; and in view of the fact that the Federal government recognized its interest in highways by a first grant of $20,000,000, which has been expended; and, in view of the increase in highway travel throughout Canada, this association, in annual convention assembled, reaffirms its oft-stated belief in Federal aid to highways and that additional aid should be granted at the earliest possible moment to the various provinces and the executive committee is hereby instructed to make every reasonable effort to have this resolution made effective."

Attending University Of British Columbia

Percy Williams Will Take Freshman's Course In Vancouver

Vancouver.—Percy Williams, Olympic 100 and 200 metre champion, will attend the University of British Columbia here for one year. After that he will take the business administration course at the University of Washington. This was decided at a meeting of members of the committee in charge of Williams' affairs here, which Williams attended.

Williams spent two days in Seattle and returned home in order to discuss all angles of his situation with his friends here. He had been invited to attend the Washington institution.

"He is remaining in Vancouver for the year because he feels that it would be unfair to those who welcomed him so wonderfully and who have been so good to him to leave," a member of the committee said.

Expresses Sympathy For Florida Sufferers

King George Cabled Condolences To President Coolidge

London.—That King George takes a keen interest in world affairs is evidenced by the cable sent by him to President Coolidge, expressing his sympathy to the people of U.S. for the sufferers in the Florida hurricane.

The message read: "I desire to express to you and through you to kind intermediary to the American people, my sincere condolences upon the disaster which has recently overwhelmed Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the state of Florida as a result of the recent hurricane and my sympathy with all those that have suffered from its effects."

Anglo-French Naval Pact

United States Government Rejects Agreement To Vote Sent To Both Houses

Washington, Sept. 26.—An unqualified rejection of the so-called secret Anglo-French naval accord as a basis for renewed discussions on naval arms limitations is understood to be contained in the United States replies to Great Britain and France which were forwarded to Paris and London.

A separate note for each government was sent the American embassies for transmittal to the foreign offices.

It had been expected one note would be sent to both governments. Although it was learned the notes are not identical in form they are understood to be similar to each other in their essential facts.

It is understood both notes comprise a lengthy discussion of the American stand on naval disarmaments with respect to cruisers and submarines. The subject has been the centre of disagreement between the United States and Great Britain and is held to have caused the failure of the 1927 Geneva conference.

As indicated at the White House it is expected the notes will reflect the United States stand on naval disarmaments as outlined at the 1927 Geneva conference.

Forty Killed By Explosion

Women and children were among the dead and injured. Nine soldiers of the Spanish garrison at the fort were killed. The government appropriated 25,000 pesetas ($4,125) for relief of the families of victims.

CAMPAIGN IS ON FOR ELECTIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN

Yarmouth, Eng.—The first open move in a nation-wide campaign for the forthcoming British general election, when Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and his government appeal to the British voters for another five-year mandate, will be made here when 2,600 Conservative delegates, a record gathering of its kind, go into conference to hammer out a party platform.

Within a month from now Conservatives, Liberals and Labor, by means of their annual conferences will determine the issues upon which they will wage the biggest party struggle in this country since the Great War.

The most intense fights are expected on tariff questions, the extension of protective measures by means of "safeguarding" of industries by special import duties.

British political strategists are getting ready to adopt new means and methods of appealing to the public.

Close watch is kept on the rapid development of wireless and talking movies. "Talkies" are being made of Baldwin and other political leaders; motor cars and trucks with the latest broadcasting apparatus made ready for swift campaigns through the country districts. The hunt for party songs is on, and again the Conservatives are in the lead with song sheets already issued.

One ditty delicately alludes to the "flapper" vote, that uncertain host of five million newly-enfranchised young women for whom all parties are angling, all claiming flapper support, and none too certain of it.

MAKING EVERY EFFORT TO BRING BRITISHERS HERE

Winnipeg.—That there was no foundation for the charge made by Bishop Lloyd of Saskatchewan at a luncheon here "that there has been and is today a deliberate attempt to keep the British out of Canada," was the declaration made by Hon. Robert Forke, minister of immigration.

Speaking over the long distance telephone from his farm at Pipestone, Minn., Mr. Forke said: "We are doing every thing possible to bring to Canada Britishers whom we think are willing and capable of working on Canadian farms, no matter what district they come from. We are paying, with the help of the British Government and the railways, their passage to their Canadian destination; we are giving them this money so that their start will not be surrounded with so many difficulties encountered by the earlier pioneers and those who today are coming in from non-British countries."

"We are associating ourselves with every good organization, having the British people's best interest at heart, to advance the settlement of British in Canada and we are doing nothing for members of any other nationality who are coming into Canada."

"What else should we do or can we do in all practical commonsense that we are not now doing?"
